Stop Signs To Warn Motorists To Stop

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 14—The red flag warning motorists of repair projects will soon disappear from Kentucky highways, and in their place road crews will use reversible "stop" and "go" signs.

Department of Highways Maintenance Director M. F. Johnson said after December 15 all road crews will use these wooden signs for the control of traffic and for the protection of men working on pavement maintenance and repair.

Johnson said a stop sign will be posted at each end of repair projects and motorists, when stopped, will be advised of the length of the stretch under repair and asked to proceed with caution.

"This system, similar to the railroad crossing warning system over the old method of flagging," Johnson said, "Often when a motorist sights a flagman on the highway he does not know whether to slow down, speed up, or continue at normal speed. When he sees one of these new signs he will know to come to a complete stop."

Water Commissioners Urge Patience on Part of Patrons

The Whitesburg Water Commissioners are urging the citizens of this community to be patient about the proposed improvements in our city water system.

One of the commissioners stated this week, "we have the money available now to get a really good water system, but it cannot be accomplished in a day or a week, instead to complete the whole project it will probably take around three years."

The water system, we are glad to report has already improved a great deal. Mr. Roy McClure, the mechanic in charge of the works, says, "the pumps are now going fine and with a reserve pump now being prepared, the whole picture looks much brighter."

Let's be patient with all be patient with those who are trying to give us a better and more adequate supply of water—we feel that everything that can be done at this time is being done, considering the scarcity of labor and materials. We might also get some consolation from the old adage, "Rome was not built in a day." Neither was Whitesburg.

Mr. Dawahare found in on the first page of a daily paper and came running to the Eagle to show it to us and we had published it one week prior to it making the first page in the daily paper. We always say to keep up with things read your local paper. Eh What? Mr. Dawahare.

Shall We Have a Community Xmas Tree This Year?

Some of our business men are asking, "What about a Community Xmas Tree this year?" It seems to us a fine suggestion. A nice tree with the street appropriately lighted, community sing and other things along this line would add much to the gala occasion and really and truly help to make a joyous occasion for all.

Mrs. Kell Stamper

Lavina, daughter of W. J. and Martha Whitaker Caudill, born December 24, 1874, at mouth of Caudill's Branch two miles below Blackey, Ky. Here in this vicinity, she grew to womanhood together with her five brothers, I. D. R. B., Willie, Jim and Charlie, and four sisters, Ann, Ella, Calla and Crittie. I. D., and Willie have preceded her in death.

She was known among her friends as "Aunt Sis" a nickname she carried all along through life. She married Kell Stamper in 1897, who passed this life in 1934, to them were born three sons, Hays, Foyster and Hassel. Foyster passed on in 1933, and three daughters, Verna, Hermana, and May, and twenty-eight grand children, and sixteen great grand children. She loved her family as a true mother does. She only wanted what was fair and right of this world's goods. No Traveler was ever turned away from her home for want of anything she could do for them. She loved her neighbors and friends, and they in turn loved her.

About thirty years ago she felt the purging power of God, that as she said it had prepared her soul for that better home, over the river of death. She was so lonely here at her old home after Foyster and Kell had gone on. She sometimes would say, "I would welcome death, get through this wearisome and troublesome life." "And be with my Savior and my people that are at rest over there." She never took fellowship with any church, but was a strong believer in the Old Regular Baptist Church as were her ancestors. She would sometimes shed tears of joy under the preaching of the gospel by the power of God. She would say I am trusting God to guide me the right way. She believed the words of Peter, that a Christian is kept by the power of God, unto salvation, ready to be revealed at the last time.

It was at 4:00 p. m., Saturday, Nov. 13, 1948, at her home here on Kings Creek, she peacefully as though going to sleep passed on in the presence of R. B., Charlie, Anna and Calla, some of her children and friends. She was 73 years 10 months, and 20 days of age at her death.

By her passing, her family, her relatives, who are many in these mountains, her neighbors, her country, the mountain citizenry has lost another old time stalwart, self thinking, industrious sainted mother.

Funeral services were held at Stamper Cemetery at Roxana, Ky., with Elders Cullen Hogg, G. Bennett Adams, Cal-tch Crouch and Tip Cornett, officiating.

Craft Funeral Home in charge of funeral arrangements.

The latest and unique way of cooking without utensils and no dish washing. The leaders that attended actually did their own cooking a full meal in one package. Field Executive George S. Bingham was the director.

The patrol method picture of how scouting is operated, the patrol was shown to sixteen men in the Pike District, ten men in the Letcher District and sixteen men in the Floyd District. At this meeting the men expressed their desire of all scout leaders taking part in another meeting of this type, so a date was set for another cook out, two weeks from this meeting.

This cook out was for all Scoutmasters, Asst. unit committeemen, and boy leaders of each unit. This cook out was a greater success than ever planned, with the following attendance. Forty eight leaders from Floyd District, Seventy persons from the Letcher District and thirty nine from the Pike District. After the eats the leaders were shown the picture "The Three Assistances" of how the program note book, scouting magazine, and boys Life Magazine helps them to plan scouting and to operate the troop the scouting way.

Revival Nears Climax

The services now in progress at the Presbyterian Church are still growing in interest and attendance. Sunday marks the close of these services which have been highlighted by a wide and active interest of many of the Whitesburg people as well as others from other communities. The young people have played a vital part and all of us are receiving a great blessing in the simple gospel messages aptly put by the evangelist, Rev. John D. Henderson.

More than a score of people have openly made profession of faith or rededicated themselves to Christ. If you have not shared in these services you have missed a real blessing.

The pastor and officers of the church extend a most cordial invitation to you to take advantage of these gospel services. Services are held each evening except Saturday with the closing services on Sunday at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M., when Mr. Henderson will bring his final messages.

American Marriages Successful, Despite High Divorce Rate

There is much more right than wrong with the American family, declares Louis I. Dublin, vice-president of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., in The Reader's Digest for December. Despite alarmists' fears that a breakdown in moral standards is resulting from our high divorce rate, the American family's position in society has grown stronger, Dublin believes. The article from Parents' Magazine.

Our marriage rate is higher than that of any other country, and Americans marry earlier in life than anywhere else in the Western World. Half of all children are born to mothers under 28. This early parenthood is a unifying influence in the family, Dublin points out. The child is less likely to lose a parent by death. Young parents are matured emotionally by the association with their children, and can look forward to the satisfaction of seeing their grandchildren grow up.

Advances in medicine and sanitation, which have sharply lowered the infant-mortality rate and helped control diseases of children and adults, have done much to strengthen family life. New knowledge of psychology, enabling parents and teachers to deal with the problems of children, is another factor contributing to family solidarity.

This solicitude of American parents for their offspring is illustrated in the large expenditures made in raising and educating children. To bring up a child to the age of 18 the average family spends an amount equivalent to three times its annual income. Dublin states. Life insurance held by 75,000,000 Americans, is evidence of parents' willingness to sacrifice present comforts to safeguard their families' future.

Navy, FeFaring Minor Role, Usurps Air Force Functions

The United States Navy, knowing its super battleships to be useless in atomic war and fearing its relegation to a secondary role, is attempting to usurp the functions of the Air Force. The Navy's plan for expansion, contemplating a fleet of giant aircraft carriers, involves vast and needless expense to American taxpayers and jeopardizes America's chances of victory in any future war. So charges William Bradford Huie in The Reader's Digest for December. Mr. Huie, widely known authority on air power and naval history, is author of several books.

Congress is convinced that our Air Force, not our Navy, shall constitute our first line of defense in the atomic age, Huie says. This conviction was overwhelmingly demonstrated by Congress' recent historic vote in support of Air Secretary Symington's 70-group air program.

The Navy, however, has not accepted the people's verdict as expressed through Congress, Huie contends, but plans to spend $6 billion in 1949, at least $8 billion annually by 1951. "The result is a conflict not merely between the Navy and the Air Force, but between the Navy bureaucracy and the American people."

A large part of the Navy's billions will be earmarked, unless Americans unite in protest, for super carriers costing over $100 million each. These ships, the author is convinced, are highly vulnerable to enemy airplanes and thus far less effective, as bases for attack, than the ring of island bases we already have.

As a vast and expensive air force, the Navy hasn't enough roles to justify its present size, much less its expansion, Huie states. Its chief function in a future war will be to safeguard shipping against enemy submarines. "But you don't fight submarines with super carriers. You use the little 'jeep' carriers which we have in mothballs by the score and which Henry Kaiser can stamp out like doughnuts."

The admirals, "thinking like bureaucrats," know that if the Navy is to be saved as an arm comparable in stature to the Air Force it must qualify to attack Moscow and Magnitogorsk. To do so it must have not only giant carriers but the long-range aircraft heretofore considered a weapon of the Air Force.

By propaganda and a strong alliance with industry the Navy seeks to maintain its historic position as a major arm of the service, Huie charges. The Navy's "unabashed civilian propaganda agency," is the Navy League. The League has spent thousands this year in mailings to Congressmen, schools, newspapers and its own 10,000 members. In addition to collecting membership fees, the Navy League solicits and receives large donations from industry.

Development of its air force has enabled the Navy to spread its spending into remote Congressional districts far from the sea. Great naval-air training centers in Kansas and Oklahoma.

Because of Navy propaganda, Huie asserts, "to oppose the Navy's expansion seems like breaking faith with John Paul Jones and all the valiant men who have gone down to the sea in ships."

The chief constable of a small town is also the veterinary surgeon. One night the telephone rang and his wife answered. "Is Mr. Thomas there?" asked an agitated voice.

"Do you want my husband as a veterinarian or as constable?"

"Both," came the reply. "We can't get our bulldog to open his mouth and there is a burglar in it!"

An elderly gentleman—wealthy and very deaf—came into our shop to purchase a much improved hearing aid. Two weeks later he returned to report that he could hear conversations quite easily, even in the next room.

"Your friends and relatives must be very happy that you can hear so much better," I said. "Oh, I haven't told them," he chuckled. "I've been sitting around listening—and do you know what? I've changed my will twice!"

On a hunting trip in the south my husband and I stopped with one of those Arkansas farmers who economize on speech. I asked him what he thought of my shooting outfit.

"Shoes too low," he opined. "Snakes." Next day I bought a pair of boots that reached nearly to my knees. "Do you think the snakes will bite above these?" I asked anxiously.

"Nope. At least no decent snake would."

CALLING ALL DRIVERS
This is the law a dead man wrote
When he was laid away
(I got it straight, and so I quote)
"The traffic lights obey."

This is the law a dead man said
Should govern street and road
(He spoke it from his lonely bed):
"Observe the traffic code."

And this the thought a dead man gave
For those who want to live
(It rose above his new-made grave):
"To fools the margins give."

And lo! the dead man often sings
A brief, but moving, song
(It floats afar on phantom wings):
"What matters who was wrong?"

The moral, friends, is very clear
Learned in a bitter school:
If you hold life as aught or dear,
Drive right, and shun the fool!

20 YEARS AGO

(From old files of the Eagle)

Below are some of the news items appearing in the Mountain Eagle in November, 1928. Unconfirmed reports was current here first of the week stated that the Lothair State Bank had closed its doors to business on Monday.

Parnell Johnson, long employed on the Eagle is moving from Cowan Branch to the Mrs. Sallie Romeo house on South side.

The Whitesburg high football boys went on the gridiron last Friday at Lewis Park here and while they made some advance in their playing lost to Buckhorn with a score of 32-6. They will meet Jenkins High for the last game of the season here next Saturday. Meet the boys there and give them a root that will chill the Jenkins spirit. At one o'clock sharp.

Prohibition officers went down about Whitco and returned with nine gallons of whiskey which was poured into the gutter on the streets. It is said three persons were arrested.

Look at the label on your Eagle and send us $1.50.

Wind and noise flaunting under the name of prosperity may be alright but having something in the pantry, in the pocket, or in the band, or something substantially in view for the future is another thing! Nobody can subsist long on wind and water.

Mr. Hoover's majority in the Tenth Congressional District was simmering around 12,000 when last reported.

Most of the boys who were escorted to the Bull Hole on the night of November 8th., have returned and are apparently in normal condition. Bob May, who frequently makes that silent retreat his headquarters says there is a fine stream of old time moonshine constantly flowing inside the hole, but he would have nothing to say about it as some of the extreme "dicks" would be constantly running for office and monopolizing its great exhilarating exuberance.

"Behind the Scenes in American Business"

New York, Nov. 15 — Consumer research, which has always been practiced to some extent by American business, received a big boost in 1936 when George Gallup accurately predicted that President Roosevelt would win the election by 60 per cent of the popular vote.

This spectacular forecast established consumer surveys as a major industry. Because business men felt that they could believe in the validity of poll findings, every advertising agency worthy of the name soon established a market research department.

It wasn't any time before a couple hundred firms were engaged in "sampling" consumer opinion. Housewives were gravely asked to state their preferences in soaps and household cleansers, and their answers went into reports that governed the expenditure of advertising budgets totaling millions of dollars. Automobile manufacturers redesigned their cars on the advice that polls showed that motorists preferred such and such.

An entire philosophy was built on straw ballots.

Since the recent election a dark cloud of doubt has gathered over the heads of the pollsters. The big question is: will business men continue to put implicit faith in them? nly time can fill out this ballot.

COW TO CONSUMER — Electrons are sticking their fingers into the milk. But these are absolutely sanitary fingers and their action keeps human fingers out of dairy products, so that in many cases they never touch and even unseen all the way from cow to consumer.

Latest step in a fast-breaking use of such "hands-off" methods, according to Lloyd E. Slater, food industry engineer for Brown Instrument Company, is an electronic instrument that accurately takes the temperature of milk in three seconds as it is being received for processing. Until recently, Slater explained, the measuring of milk temperature a vital factor in proper pasteurizing, has been done under conditions that could cause unfavorable results.

Instrument makers are doing everything possible, said the engineers for Brown division of Minneapolis-Honeywell Refractor Company, to provide dairy processors with high-speed, automatic controls that protect dairy products from unfavorable atmospheric conditions, direct contact with foreign surfaces and equipment.

THINGS TO COME — Children's transparent plastic umbrella has traffic caution legends imprinted on it in bright red or green ink . . . Liquid preparation takes the shine off pants and skirts and restores the original nap of the fabric . . . Cigarette lighter has a cotton-leaf fuel reservoir of clear plastic so you can tell at a glance when it needs refilling . . . Plier-like tools to repair zippers soon will be available for housewives . . . Plastic spectacles case is flexible and all but indestructible . . . Weather-stripping made of glass fibers can be thrust into place with a screwdriver . . . Novelty paint brush is fed by a tube that siphons paint from the can through a hollow handle and into the bristles . . . Plastic finish that can be "wiped on" to floors, furniture, and linoleum is said to be impervious to alcohol, boiling water, and acids . . . Latest for mothers is a contraption that looks like a miniature replica of the rubber boats used during the war. When inflated, the device becomes a combination bassinet, crib, bathtub and easy chair, and makes travelling with a baby that much easier.

5-Day Tour fo American Occupied Germany and Berlin

By Fred W. Smith past President of Lions International. THE CONDENSED REPORT. While in Paris, in my capacity as Lions International Consultant to the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations and as Observer at the United Nations General Assembly sessions, I, together with eleven other representatives of the 60-odd American Governmental Organizations, was invited by the United States Delegation to the United Nations to make a five-day inspection tour of the American zone in Germany and the American sector of Berlin, as guests of General Lucius D. Clay and the American Military Government. Lions International was the only service organization participating in this revealing inspection tour.

We left Paris by air at 6:30 p. m., Thursday, October 14, and arrived one hour and 50 minutes later in Frankfurt, Germany, hub for the Berlin air lift operations. The next morning several of us walked around this once prosperous and picturesque city, and found it now a depressing scene of devastation. However, here as elsewhere in the American Zone, we found a considerably improved morale on the part of the German population as a result of the recent American currency reform, which has encouraged production and trade.

We spent Friday forenoon making an inspection tour of a Displaced Persons' camp at Hanau. Here approximately 5,400 persons live in army barracks under extremely crowded conditions, 64 square feet being allowed per person. The camp is very clean however, and the occupants are all healthy-appearing, being fed an adequate, well-balanced diet. All kinds and classes of people are found in these Displaced Persons' camps, from highly educated and professionally trained men and women all along the scale to laborers.

Saturday morning, October 16, we were present at General Clay's conference with the Military Government staff and German Labor Ministers from the various states who were conferred with German labor leaders, discussing with them such subjects as trade union activities, the place of women in industry, the attitude of workers toward the Marshall Plan, and the functioning of Work Councils.

In the afternoon we motored to Heidelberg, and here we had very informative interviews with General Huebner and General Harrold, the latter in charge of Displaced Persons' camps. Thereafter, the women representatives in the party conferred with representatives of the German Women's Organizations in Heidelberg, while the men visited a German Youth Association's club. I received the distinct impression that the German youth is not ingrained with Nazism, but is open to democratic education and training. I feel that it would be decidedly worth while to bring a selected group of these German young people to America, to get a picture of our youth movement and to gather impressions and ideas to bring back to Germany.

On Sunday, October 17, we motored to Stuttgart, where we visited another Displaced Persons' camp—this time a Polish Jewish camp of the "apartment" type, containing some 8,000 or 9,000 people. We also visited a Ukrainian barracks type camp. A notable feature of these Displaced Persons' camps is the fact that they are completely self-governing, giving the members training in self-reliance and democratic procedure.

After lunch at Hotel Zeppelin with Charles La Follette, Military Governor of Wurttemberg-Baden, and members of his staff, we conferred with Miss Blewitt, Assistant to General Harrold in charge of Women's Affairs. This meeting was also attended by representative German women who addressed us on problems of housing, welfare, education and school reforms, health, refugee problems, and the role of the German women in politics. (To Be Continued nextweek)

1948 ELECTION

On November 3rd before the dawn's early light Harry Truman was leading in the national fight. He had them bested and on the run. And his race for the Presidency had definitely won.

Drew Pearson was red from his head to his hoof. Because he had lied about the plain natural truth, Truman wouldn't get a state. North of Mason Dixon line. A thing that hadn't happened in DEMOCRACY'S time.

Drew was trying to lead the befuddled host. And prophesying loud and proclaiming his boast. Proving to all that he had naturally lied. And turned over to be on the winning side.

But the people won't forget in their natural lives. Back in '32 when they were Hooverized. And the jam was up on the topmost shelf. They had none left for their poor little self.

The NEW DEAL put the jam in a lower place. Where the laboring man could feed his face. So he thanks the NEW DEAL and speaks with his vote. And lets the 'Pubs know he is no turncoat.

So he places his vote on the winning side. And listens not to the waver-ind tide. With silence and faith both North and South. They keep HARRY'S home inside the WHITE HOUSE. D. B. HOLLYFIELD Pound, Va.

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE MANAGEMENT, CONTROL AND OPERATION OF THE MUNICIPAL WATERWORKS SYSTEM WHEN ACQUIRED BY THE CITY OF WHITESBURG, KENTUCKY.

WHEREAS proceedings are now in process for the acquisition by the City of Whitesburg, Kentucky, of the existing privately owned waterworks system supplying water and water service in and to said city, and for the issuance of water revenue bonds of said city in connection with such acquisition, which bonds are to be secured by and payable from the revenues of said system; and

WHEREAS in order to more advantageously negotiate the sale of said bonds and to provide for the efficient operation of said waterworks system it is necessary that a permanent plan of operation of said system be now made of record for the assurance of the holders of said bonds as may be from time to time outstanding that said waterworks system will not be subjected to the caprice or partisan favoritism in such management, control and operation.

NOW, THEREFORE, the City Council of the City of Whitesburg, Kentucky does ordain as follows:

S. R. S. Loses To Hardburly

A favored Stuart Robinson basketball team journeyed to Viper Friday evening to play Hardburly and lost in a startling upset by a 39-36 score. Each team left the floor at the half time with 14 points showing on the board. Hardburly played better ball all the way than the erratic S. R., five but had to come from behind with three points in the last minute to tie the score and send the game into overtime. In the overtime period the Eagles got off to a quick lead on a field goal by Haynes and a foul by substitute forward Arlie Whitaker. A field goal by Dobson and two by Fazi erased the lead and gave the victory to Hardburly.

Jack Caudill, Eagle co-captain, led the scoring with five field goals and four fouls of six tries to gain 14 points. He was pressed closely by Fazi and Dobson of Hardburly who made 13 points apiece.

Mrs. Roosevelt Seeks

Purge Of Dixiecrats
Washington — Democratic leaders turned a cold shoulder today on the proposal of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt that States Right supporters be purged from the party. In Paris yesterday she said she would like to see "the permanent ousting of the Southern Dixiecrats from the Democratic Party."

The widow of the late President suggested that some Southerners who opposed Truman's civil rights would be denied Congressional chairmanship if they aren't recognized as Democrats.

Representative John Rankin (Miss.) top Democrat on the House Veterans Committee and in line to head it, said at his home in Tupelo, Miss. "The less the American people hear from Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, the better off the country will be." She had dubbed him as one of the "worst reactionaries."

National Chairman J. Howard McGrath said it will be up to Democratic members of the House and Senate to decide who gets the prize chairmanships in the new Congress.

Motion Picture Executive Visits Russia

The Russian people are under the impression that their butter is the best in the world, says Eric Johnston in his new book "We're All In It."

"Even the humblest Russian is obsessed with the idea that everything Russian is better than anything else," Mr. Johnston writes. "And that carries all the way down the line, even to such small matter as butter, which is apt to be pretty much alike no matter where you find it."

In telling about his experiences during a trip to Russia, the president of the Motion Picture Association explained: "Natacha, a young worker who spoke excellent English told me very seriously her doctor had warned her against eating butter. It was harmful to the liver, he said, but Russian butter, that was all right. It gave you strength and courage."

"And it was so with many American foods, Natacha explained to me earnestly. The Russian people were warned against eating them."

The book goes on to tell Mr. Johnston's conversation with his interpreter, a young woman of about thirty who chattered in English. She told Mr. Johnston that "it was something of a shame about American food," and said that "she felt that the deficiencies of American food probably accounted for the fact that American troops were not hardly like the Russians and couldn't take sacrifices."

S. R. S. Defeats Toner 40-14

Bill Jack Branson led the scoring with five field goals and two fouls for a total of twelve points. Melton was high for the losers with eight points, six of which were foul shots.

The S. R. S. "B" team won going away 28-4. Midway through the third quarter the score was only 3-1. The Leatherwood team never did score from the field, getting all their count on free throws. Martin and Gibson led the winner's attack with eleven points each.

What goes on here?

Referee makes first down—or did he really just miss it? Field judge blocks out the nearest tackler—or was he clipping? If the officials call "en-and play too—what kind of a game is that?

You wouldn't stand for that sort of thing on a football field—but it happens every day in the electric light and power business. Government not only regulates the electric companies—but is in competition with them at the same time!

The catch is that government sets up two different sets of rules. The government's electric agencies pay little or no interest on the money they borrow, and pay no Federal taxes —but electric companies do, and expect to. When government-in-the-power-business can't make ends meet—it gets a handout of tax money from the U. S. Treasury. Who foots the bill? American taxpayers—of which you are one.

If government can get into the light and power business this way—it can get into any other business the same way.

In sixty-odd years, the self-supporting electric companies have built for America the most and the best electric service in the world. While costs of everything else are way up (including the costs of making and delivering electricity) electric service is still the best bargain in the American family's budget... it does so much, and costs so little.

This is a good record for the thousands of people who work in power companies, and for the millions of people who invest savings in them.

Don't you think these men and women deserve a fair break?

The answer is yours to make, for government money is your money.

Baptist Meet

The 11th annual session of the General Association of Baptists in Kentucky met at the Calvary Baptist Church in Lexington last week. Baptists in Kentucky, with over 375 thousand members, have grown much since 1769 when Squire Boone, a Baptist preacher, came to Kentucky
as a companion of his brother Daniel Boone. The first meeting of the General Association was held in Louisville in 1837 with 57 messengers. Now with more than two thousand churches Baptists number about one out of every five persons in the state.

Outstanding among the speakers at the meeting in Lexington was Dr. C. Oscar
Johnson, pastor of the Third Baptist Church, St. Louis, Missouri and President of the Baptist World Alliance. Dr.
Johnson has recently made a trip to Europe in the interest of studying world conditions in relation to the Baptist program of world relief.

Those attending the meeting
from Whitesburg were Mr.
and Mrs. T. C. Adams, Mrs.
Robert L. Reed, Mrs. A. C.
Adams and Rev. and Mrs.
Marion E. Parker.

Mr. E. C. Potter of Potters in Neon is taking off this week to join Dr. and Mrs. Lee Moore in Hendersonville N. C. for a hunting trip which is expected to last about 10 days.

Mrs. J. B. McAuley of Kona will be in charge of Potters while Mr. Potter is on vacation.

Major developments, many of them based on the more than two billion miles which owners have put on K-F cars, include an increase from 100 to 112 in horsepower. A massive grille and bumpers are features of the new exterior design. A new instrument panel dominates the restyled interior.

You will want to hear him either Sunday morning at the First Baptist Church in Jenkins or at the evening service in Whitesburg.

LIONS CLUB

The Whitesburg Lions Club held their regular weekly meeting Thursday night Nov. 11.

Lion W. S. Duncan was in charge of the program. Lion Duncan had each member pull some slight of hand trick, sing a song or recite a poem.

Lion Maurice Lewis seemed to be the Houdini of the Lions with his slight of hand trick. Roland Price took the cove when he recited the poem about "The Boy On The Burning Deck."

Lion Bradley Goodwin did not know any poems or slight hand tricks so he sang one chorus of "Clementine" that was enjoyed by everyone.

Lion Lexie Potter has the program for Thursday night Nov. 18th. "News" says he has something good cooked up for the Lions so let's all be there.

LITTLE COWAN 4-H CLUB NEWS

We were very glad to have Mr. Fike present.

Tuberculosis frequently has no outward symptoms in its early stage. Few people may have the disease without knowing they are ill. Christmas Seal funds are used in many localities to help find unknown cases of TB.

Chief aid to the physician in diagnosing tuberculosis, the X-ray can "see" the disease before its symptoms are apparent.

FISH AND GAME CLUB NEWS

Frankfort, — Kentucky's nimrods will fire their first volley Saturday, November 20, when the 1948-49 season on quail and rabbits opens. Hunting of these two species will be legal until January 10, which brings to a close a 51-day period of hunting in Kentucky.

All hunters are required to possess a hunting license, the Division of Game and Fish points out, and pump and automatic repeating shotguns must be plugged so that the barrel and magazine combined will hold not more than three shells, with the plugs of such type that they can not be removed without disassembling the gun. Statewide licenses, which are valid in any county in Kentucky, may be obtained for $3, while a $1 county license permits the hunter to take game only in the county so designated on the license.

Bag limit for quail this season is 10 per day per hunter, the Division points out, while the possession limit is 20 after the first day, provided the hunter has hunted two or more days. Limit on rabbits is eight per day, with 16 being permissible, after the first day, provided the possessor has hunted two or more days. The Division warns hunters that 107 conservation officers will patrol the fields this season to see that these rules and regulations are complied with.

Reports from throughout the state indicate more quail and rabbits this season than last, the Division claims. A recent survey, conducted by the Happy Hunting Ground magazine, showed that rabbits are on the increase from the all-time low of last season in some of the counties, while the bird crop is generally regarded as improved over the excellent 1947 season in practically all sections. This survey was made by polling the 107 conservation officers of the Division throughout the state.

In addition to the quail and rabbit season a 15 day open season has been declared on grouse or native pheasant this year. The season will open on December 1 and continue through December 15, with a bag limit of two per day, the Division reports. The season on ducks and geese opens at noon on December 10 and continues through January 8 with a limit of four each day and a possession limit of eight ducks after the first day. Possession limit for geese is eight. The shooting hours after the first day are from 1-2 hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset, except on the first day when the hours are from noon until one hour before sunset. Included in the bag limit or possession limit shall be not more than one wood duck nor two Canada geese or its subspecies or two white-fronted geese or one of each.

The deer season in five Kentucky counties, Nelson, Hardin, Breckinridge, Meade and Bullitt, will open on November 27 and continue through December 4. Only antlered buck deer may be taken and only shotguns, loaded with slugs or 00 buckshot may be used. In addition to the regular statewide hunting license a special deer hunting permit, which costs $5, is required.

Barbourville, Ky. — Nov. 12 — More than 10 per cent of the record fall enrollment at Union College is made up of students studying for professional Church work, it has been announced.

Of the 49 life volunteers for Christian service, 31 are men studying for the ministry and 18 are women taking the Christian workers curriculum, a course of study designed to prepare them for full-time service, in the combined capacities of pastor's assistant,

Christmas Seal Sale To Open Nov. 22nd

"The forty-second annual Christmas Seal Sale will open throughout Kentucky and the nation on Monday, November 22, 1948. No Tuberculosis Christmas Seals will be offered for sale to the public prior to that date."

"The Tuberculosis Christmas Seal is the only means of support of the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association and Local Associations. It is also an educational program of great value in carrying the facts about tuberculosis to the people everywhere."

"Tuberculosis is still a major health problem. In fact it is the greatest killer of all preventable diseases. It is also a major problem in certain industrial groups and is doing a great deal of damage to our young people because it strikes heaviest in the active period of life."

"When people know the facts they are in a position to do something about it. Through this educational and fund raising program we are striking a tremendous blow against tuberculosis in Kentucky."

Notice!

Don't forget the regular monthly meeting of the Letcher County Truck Mine Operators Association which is held on the 15th of each month at 6:30 P. M., CST, at the Court House, unless same should fall on Sunday or Legal Holiday, such being the case, meeting would be the following day.

DOUBLE INDEMNITY PAYMENTS DECLINE

Life insurance double indemnity payments are running slightly below last year, reflecting a lower rate of fatalities from accidents, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

In the first half of this year, the double indemnity payments were $11,764,000, which is 1 per cent under payments in the first half of last year. At the same time, total life insurance owned is up 10 per cent and presumably the total of policies with double indemnity provisions has also increased.

About one-third of all ordinary and industrial life insurance had double indemnity protection at the start of this year, 28 per cent in the case of ordinary insurance and 56 per cent in the case of industrial insurance.
